Description:

This one story, three bay "Cape Cod" style house may date from the 1930s or 1940s.

The exterior surface is of formstone. There is a combination of shed and gable dormers on the roof. Windows have six over six pane sash and the main entrance is in the center bay.

There is a shed extension to the rear. A frame garage/workshop is located west of the house.

The 1877 Atlas does show a house on this property, occupied by J. Troup. The 20th century finishes of this place may conceal an older building.
